Verse 1

My opinion could change today
But I'm responsible anyway
For second to third hand information
That complicates the complication.
And I don't think before I speak
And I don't know how far my words reach.
So wrong nearly every time that I'm sorry I speak my mind
If what I said was unkind

Chorus

And now it feels like I'm on fire
It's burning the world through
But don't hold it against me
'Cause I know you're lying too.

Verse 2

Is there any need for apology?
There's no reason to believe me
Judgments born in my jealous mind
Creeping inside outside
Connections I've made never follow through
And sooner or later disappoint you.
Or cross you twice when your back is turned That's how I've learned
That someone has got to be burned

And now it feels like I'm on fire
These words are not the truth
But don't hold it against me
'Cause I know you're lying too.

And now it feels like I'm on fire
It's burning the world through
But don't let me fall
Without someone to hold on to Someone to hold on to.
