

Tori Amos – Pretty Good Year

Capot 044444.

Intro

Verse

Greg's part (swap first G and F 2nd time through)

Let me tell you somethin'... 'Merica.

"Some things are melting now"

"Hey, what's it gonna take"

Intro

Verse

Tears on the sleeve of a man.
Don't wanna be a boy today.
I heard the eternal footman bought himself a bike to race.

Greg he writes letters,
and burns his CDs.
They say you were something,
in those formative years.
Hold onto nothing
as fast as you can, oh

Chorus

Still, a pretty good year.

Verse 2

Maybe a bright sandy beach
is going to bring you back, back, back.
May not so now you're off.
You're gonna see America.

Let me tell you something

about amamamamamam
'Merica.

Chorus

Pretty good year

Some things are melting now.

Some things are melting now, oh,

Hey.

What's it gonna take
'til my baby's all right?
What's it gonna take 'til my baby's all right?

Intro

Greg he writes letters
With his birthday pen.
Sometimes he's aware
That they're drawing him in Lucy was pretty,
Your best friend agreed, oh.

Chorus

Still, a pretty good year.

Some things are melting now.